

TOGETHER AGAIN IN MY BLUE HEAVEN

STEVE AND RICK

Steve Martin and Rick Moranis have now worked together three times - in the musical re-make of The Little Shop Of Horrors, Parenthood and now My Blue Heaven. Ask either of the pair what they think about the other and the responses sound like recitations for a mutual admiration society.

Having both cut their comic eye teeth in shows such as SCTV and Saturday Night Live, the pair have gained world wide reputations as comic actors at the top of their class.

In My Blue Heaven, they join up with a few other well known comic faces such as Joan Cusak and Carol Kane to produce an amusing, off-beat comedy. Director Herbert Ross became involved in the project due to the persistence of Steve Martin. " [The script] was sent to me by Steve Martin and I'm a great fan of Steve's so anything he was interested in, I was interested in and I like the whole notion of his playing this character of Vinnie Antonelli. I thought it was the clue to the movie.

"I thought the script had charm and originality, so I was drawn to it. I thought it was going to be tough to do - and it was tough to do - but all those challenges got to me."
